

Writing Your First Novel

Having original ideas when creating character descriptions. Creating an outline for the story.

Final planning for writing novel. Drafting for each chapter without editing.

The revision process throughout the entire story by proofreading, researching and editing.

The novel needs to be published. The book is distributed to publishing companies and readers.

